PT-141

Reignite Desire.
Restore Intimacy.
Renew Confidence.

What Is PT-141?

PT-141 (Bremelanotide) is a peptide therapy designed to help women experiencing low sexual desire, decreased arousal, or difficulty feeling mentally or physically “in the mood.”

Unlike therapies that affect hormones or blood flow, PT-141 works directly through the brain’s natural pathways for desire and arousal, helping you reconnect with your sensuality, confidence, and intimate relationships.

It is non-hormonal, fast-acting, and used by women who want a safe, natural way to restore sexual desire.

Why Consider PT-141?

Supports Natural Female Libido

- Helps increase desire and interest in intimacy
- Stimulates the mind-body connection for arousal

Enhances Emotional & Intimate Well-Being

- May boost mood and responsiveness
- Encourages comfort, closeness, and confidence

Ideal for Women Facing:

- Stress-related low libido
- Fatigue or decreased sexual desire
- Perimenopause or menopause-related changes
- Postpartum sexual changes (pending provider approval)

Non-Hormonal Option

- Safe for women who cannot or prefer not to use hormone therapies
- Works independently of estrogen or testosterone levels

How It’s Used

- Administered as a small subcutaneous injection in the abdomen or thigh
- Typically takes effect within 30–60 minutes
- Results may last up to 12 hours
- Your provider will create a personalized dosing plan for comfort and results

PT-141 is intended for use as needed, not daily.

What to Expect

- Within an Hour:
  - Heightened desire and interest
  - More mental and emotional readiness for intimacy
- Over Time:
  - Renewed confidence
  - Stronger connection with your partner
  - Improved satisfaction and overall sexual well-being

Individual response varies, and PT-141 works best when paired with open communication, healthy lifestyle habits, and provider supervision.
